This incredible piece of modern architecture stands regally on its elevated position in the exquisite gated community known as Lomas de La Quinta. This privileged and utterly serene urbanisation is nestled within an area outstanding natural beauty, surrounded by the monumental range of mountains known as the Sierra de Las Nieves. If there was ever a corner of heaven in which you could reside in privacy and peace...this is it. Constructed evenly over a south facing plot of 1377m² this dazzling residence languishes, opening out to reveal panoramic views down across the seemingly never ending valley, across the golf course and onto the Mediterranean Sea that glistens across the horizon. Making your way into the property you gaze is immediately taken with those glorious views, appreciated through colossal windows that have been astutely placed along the front of the property, allowing swathes of natural light to flood in. With its double height ceiling, this living area gives an impression of continuum and infinite space, whilst the sunlight dances across the floors and walls. A secondary room sits adjacent offering the perfect option for a family or television room. Both open out onto the sublime terraces that stretch out in front and snake around the saltwater swimming pool. Views from every angle serve as gentle reminders of the glorious surroundings. The dining room and kitchen are found a little further along and are equally as impressive, with floor to ceiling windows that frame the mountains and capture the sea. Picture windows around the kitchen allow yet more light to filter in, highlighting the sleek modern kitchen and its uncluttered design. Integrated appliances are streamlined whilst cupboards offer storage - all impeccable in wood and white. There are two guest bedrooms on the same floor both of which enjoy the privacy of ensuite bathrooms. The bathrooms are a sheer delight, with huge walk in showers and polished sink units and each one enticing you into its inner sanctum. On the upper floor, a glass fronted walkway leads onto the main bedroom which surpasses expectations, with its grandiose private terrace overlooking the swimming pool, surrounding private grounds and the green valley laid out beyond. The ensuite bathroom is a sanctuary to soothe the soul, with its freestanding bathtub looking outwards across the hills, its ultra sleek sink and glass surrounded rain shower. Walk in wardrobes offer a myriad of storage space, keeping the immaculate appearance an ongoing theme. Recessed lighting offers a sense of delicacy. Two guest bedrooms also feature on this floor, equally as lavish. The solarium is accessed on this floor the opens up to reveal a roof garden that appears to mirror image the verdant countryside. Here the views are 360° and bring home the true meaning of perpetuity. A guest toilet features alongside an area perfect for the inclusion of an outdoor kitchen ... if ever there was a perfect place to sit under the stars - this has to be it. The basement of this residence offers bedroom N° 6 complete with its ensuite bathroom, both of which open out onto a private garden. With an option to add another bedroom still plus copious amounts of additional space to incorporate a gym, cinema room, private cocktail bar or whatever your heart desires, this is without doubt one of the most exquisite properties to grace the markets. An internal patio also opens up the possibility of installing a private lift to give access to each floor, all the way up to the solarium. The property includes a private garage for up to 3 vehicles as well as huge amounts of outdoor parking for guests.
